Once again I bid you welcome to another edition of our monthly cyber-magazine, the USF PADD. My staff has been hard at work, and it shows. We have many articles for you to read. Please take a few minutes to answer the surveys that we have. Feel free to email any of the authors to express your opinions. Be sure to answer the USF Trivia - you could get your name mentioned next month as a winner! Our web site (<http://members.aol.com/usfpadd>) has undergone some changes that you might want to check out. As always, if you have gossip or birthdays of simmers, send the info to CptAriell (@aol.com). You'll want to read all the way to the end of this issue to make certain you don't miss any of the fabulous articles we have!

Klingon Sim - IKC Hegh'ta

by USFShodan

This reporter had the pleasure of being able to interview Admiral Clements (also known as HoDKahless, or Captain Qey'liS Sutai-d'k tahg, the Klingon captain) about the USF's Klingon sim. I am grateful to the Admiral for taking the time to answer my questions. Read on to find out more about this very special sim!

Shodan: Why did you decide to start a Klingon sim?

HoDKahless: There have not been many decent role-playing Klingon type ships available on AOL, therefore, I decided to create the IKC Hegh'ta.

Shodan: What timeline are you playing TOS, TNG, or DS9?

HoDKahless: It is in the current timeline... First Contact, DS9...

Shodan: As a captain, what are your views of the Federation?

HoDKahless: I served with the Federation for a majority of my career, before transferring to the Empire. I hope one day the Empire and Federation will function as one.

Shodan: What types of simmers are you looking for?

HoDKahless: We are looking for people who like high involvement. Ongoing stories during the week is a must.

Shodan: Do the characters have to be Klingon characters, or can they be other species?

HoDKahless: No actually, within the next month the Hegh'ta is going under some large changes. We are going to become a Liaison between the Federation and Empire. Both Starfleet and Klingon Officers are going to run the ship. As you know, the Federation and Empire have not been on the best terms lately. ;-)

Shodan: Is your ship fighting the Federation, or is there a treaty?

HoDKahless: Our ship is allied with the Federation... although, the Empire, is not. Remember we're the liaison vessel.

Shodan: Is it strictly a starship sim?

HoDKahless: No, we make trips often to Qon'oS and spend a lot of time in between Klingon and Federation Space.

Shodan: What class of ship is the IKC Heghta?

HoDKahless: K'Vort

Shodan: How many people are on the ship?

HoDKahless: Curently 7. We are looking for more crew members. We have a limit on the ship, which is 13 officers. Please E-mail HoDKahless if you'd like to become a crew member during this transformation period.

USF BR&D

by USFLynx

Greetings, as you may or may not know the USF R&D Department has been rather quiet lately. I would like to turn that around and get some interesting conversations and proposals started. The structure of the R&D Department will be casual for the most part as I want everyone to feel free to throw out ideas and suggestions. To qualify to be a member of R&D you only need to be a member of the USF. If you are interested in joining the USF BR&D please email me (USFLynx@aol.com) back with the following information:

WE NEED YOUR HELP !!!

Have you recently wondered why you haven't seen a USF Log Book in almost two months?? Well I am here to let you know. Those that had agreed to read and chose the log excerpts from each ship have not gotten them in to me. For those of you that read the Log Book you know that one log/story is chosen from each ship to represent the ship for that Log Book. Also additional stories are considered for the story excerpt section.

The Log Book started over a year ago, and I would hate to think that no one has an interest in it coming out anymore. Many man hours go into making each edition what it is, both by the writers and the log book staff.

I am here to ask for your help. If you have an interest in reading the logs and stories from a ship in the USF and the ability to get me your choice once every two weeks, I would like to talk to you. I am looking for volunteers for the Log Book staff to help rebuild us back to our previous glory.

With the newest message boards in place, the posting of each ship's logs and stories is again a requirement for promotions. This means that we will see a flourishment of logs again on the message boards. In turn this means that the Log Book will again see growth and interest.

Please contact me at CptAriell@aol.com if you are intersted in joining the Log Book staff. Perhaps you just want to have a small part in helping us out. Write up a welcome letter for the USF Log Book or send in your stories to me for consideration. Help us make the Log Book again one of the best things about the USF.

Sincerely,
Captain Ariell Johannson-Riker

BALLOT BOX

by LCdrObrien

Should USF use cloaking devices in its sims?

YES: 40% (2)

NO: 60% (3)

-"Only in specialized, new ships."

Next months question:

Has USF been moving too far from the original ST topic, peace and exploration?

To answer the question, send an email to LCdrObrien@aol.com. In the subject line, type "YES VOTE" or "NO VOTE". If you wish to make a brief comment, then type it in the text area. If any comments are given for the yes vote or no vote, they will be given under the vote count, without the person's name. Please have these votes in by the 15th of the month. The vote count will be in April's edition of the PADD, as well as the next question. If you have a question suggestion, send it to LCdrObrien@aol.com. I REALLY need more responses to get accurately show peoples opinions.

A Special Premier Edition Of:

On The Bridge With Commander Spock

by Commander Spock, Executive Officer, USS Halifax

The day that he came aboard the Excelsior, I know that I was not the only one to be at least surprised, and at most down right intimidated. Recently retired from the Admiralty, Ambassador Anders was to be our ship's chief diplomat. It was very shortly after that day that we all realized what good fortune we indeed had. Adding a dimension to our crew that had not previously existed, Anders was at once silly and serious, and nothing like I had expected.

I recall the day that he was the first non-Vulcan to try Lieutenant Commander Spock's Protein Composite. That was just one example of his dedication to doing whatever he could to improve his relationship with the crew. He was always friendly and an easy person with whom to get along (even if constantly illogical).

I will not forget the time that I was deemed fit to serve with Ambassador Anders, and I do not believe that anyone who was at some point in the same position will forget.

Today, preparations are underway for the final voyage of Jonathan Anders, Retired Ambassador and Vice Admiral, for on stardate 9801.18, he was tragically killed. Although the specific circumstances of his death have been permanently classified, known only at the highest levels of Starfleet, this much is certain: Anders died doing what he had done for his entire career, conducting himself in a manner becoming the finest traditions of the United Space Federation. Services will be held on 9802.11 at 10:00 pm est on board the USS Halifax.

New SIM Survey

Attention USF Simmers,

The United Space Federation is currently reviewing a simulation idea on which it would appreciate your feedback on. The results of this survey will greatly determine the fate of this sim so I strongly urge you to respond. <<Besides its not very long at all ;)>>

1) Would you be interested in a simulation based heavily on the fighting aspects of Star Trek? And if such a simulation were offered in the USF would you join?

2) Do you know of other simmers that might enjoy this type of simulation?

Comments:

Please send all forms back to "CptnAllen@aol.com", and thank you for taking the time to take part in this painless survey :).

If you have any further questions as to the specifics of the simulation, helpful suggestions, or even a desire to help me develop this idea, contact "CptnAllen@aol.com". Or you may contact the current HC member overseeing this idea "USFUltimoH@aol.com".

Thanks again :),

The USF's Bit of Gossip (The Dirt)

edited by Captain Ariell Johannson-Riker

ATTENTION READER'S

Thank you to all of my sources both anonymous and otherwise for your juicy bits of gossip.

Please let me hear from you. I know you want to spill your sim's dirt. E-Mail CptAriell@aol.com with your bit of dirt. You can even remain anonymous, just let me know that in the e-mail. Please place the ship name and then DIRT in the subject of the e-mail. This will help me to find it more easily.

I would like to keep this section, but I can't do it without your help. Yes that's right. I NEED YOU ALL !! Is someone getting married on your ship, perhaps people are just pairing off, or maybe you just know more about the "Men in White". (he he) Whatever the news is on your ship, we want to hear about it. Send your news, gossip, and good ole fashion dirt on the crew to me at CptAriell@aol.com

I can't wait to hear from you. --Ariell--

Integrity Gossip

Captain Ariell

::shakes head:: Well the Integrity does it again. It seems that a recent exclamation to the USF staff by the Integrity's commanding officer states that they are "God's gift to women"? ::Rolls eyes at the male ego:: ;-)

Now usually this roving reporter would scoff at such a claim, but my recent visit to the Integrity would have to support this statement. It was more of a relaxing free sim so Captain Rigel was not on the bridge but in his quarters. Captain Rigel mentioned that he was taking a shower, and I swear the whole room stopped to "watch". Well the female population that is.

All was going well though until I stepped up to the door to the Captain's quarters and rang its chime. Now as most had been keeping track of what the captain was doing, we were highly surprised when HE ANSWERED THE DOOR !! ::Laughs:: To most in the room it was surmised that the Captain was standing in front of the door in only a shirt.

Captain Rigel certainly had everyone's attention. I think Commander Gorkon must have been slightly jealous at the shift in female interest since several comments were made by him about the attention the Captain was getting. J/K Gorkon. You know they still luv ya.

When all was said and done, Captain Rigel insists that he was there shirt and pants at the door. ::Grins:: The jury is still out on that one Captain. ::Looks to Mavelle for that copy of the chat log:: We'll let you know.

The proof of the goings on, on the Integrity can be found below thanks to an anonymous tipper. ::Runs over to Rigel with a microphone:: Captain Rigel, you seem to have quite a reputation. Care to comment on if it is all true or merely hearsay? ::watches Rigel just grin::

<<Thanks to the anonymous tipper for this information. You know who you are.>>
Lots of kissing going on. Amanda and Parris were kissing each other an awful lot. Then other people started kissing other people. It seemed almost like everyone was kissing everyone. French kissing, "dipkissing", Mavelle kissed Rigel, hoping for an early promotion Ambassadors Merelan (or was it Shodan?) kissed Gorkon. Of course many, many women wanted to kiss Captain Rigel. Here is an excerpt from it all.

"DrMavelle: Rigel: 10% captain .. 90% Womanizer"

"DrMavelle: Gorkon: 10% Womanizer 90% MARRIED"

LtKeirSaar: ::raises an eyebrow:: Is it true Captain?

Capt Rigel: ::to Lael: what is that Lt?

LtKeirSaar: ::smiles:: Your reputation?

Capt Rigel: It appears so.. I do not know how it happened thought DrMavelle: ::smirks:: You don't?Hmm ..

LTABugg: ;) Rigel is a tom cat

LtKeirSaar: I have heard rumors Captain ::smirks::

DrMavelle: Rumors that are TRUE!!!! ::chuckles:: For one thing .. he flirts with complete strangers.

"LtTaitt: :: dips her {Amanda Bugg} and gives her a long, passionet kiss ::"

LTABugg: ::dip kisses taitt:: ::dip kisses rigel again::

Capt Rigel: ::enjoying all the dip kissing he is getting today::

DrMavelle: ::dipkisses Rigel::

LTABugg: ok::dip kisses taitt::

Capt Rigel: ~~ Can see the news now.. Orgy on the USS Integrity~~

Cdr Gorkon: ::In front of Rigel:: Alright! Everyone step away...and no one gets hurt. ::A stick of gum in hand::

Capt Rigel: LOL Gork

LTABugg: ::dip kisses gorkon::

Federation gossip

By CaptAriell

Happy and sad time abound for the USS Federation and her crew. On SD 9802.22 Counselor Kyrax Joven Akeiro and Doctor Rebecca Wingnton-Smythe were married before family and friends. Their ceremony took place in a lovely Irish castle on Earth. It seems that the peace and tranquility of the evening did not last as an altercation involving eclairs and other food objects began between FsLtJScott and LTStDuiex. Shortly afterwards Mister Scott disappeared. Hmm, did StDuiex use more than eclairs in that battle??

Bad news abounds for Captain Ariell Johannson-Riker and her family. Earlier this month she was informed of her husband's, Thomas Riker's, death. On SD 9802.28 she was informed of the presumed death of her twin sister's, Captain Ahrele Johannson's, death. (see Darmok gossip above). Will Ariell continue to go further depressed and touchy at the least bit thing? I don't know about you but seeing as she has already "accidentally" shot the Counselor on the ship, I wouldn't get close enough to find out. If this woman doesn't get some good news, the crew might have to relocate her. ;-)

anonymous

Welcome aboard to our new crew member, Symon Locke. Symon comes to us from another time. Lieutenant Commander Valdyr was seen making goo goo eyes at Symon, and he made goo goo eyes back at her! Could it be that both of them need to see an optometrist?

There are occasional contests to see who is the most insane. It's a close call, but Valdyr might win, although Kaiyana comes in an awfully close second.

Roddenberry Surprises

The Spy

They say chaos rules supreme on the Roddenberry. Don't believe it? Well, here's the news. Mind you .. it's news. I'm not one to gossip. Remember that .. Really .. Aw come on .. don't look at me that way.

Mind you that the Roddenberry is overrun by weirdos. A certain Elf officer has engaged himself to a lovely cat. Yup, you heard me. One must wonder what the kittens will look like. But there's more to the mess ... Ready? That certain Elf tends to throw out frightening words such as sword sticking himself and lying on the ground. Scared yet? No? Well, there's more. He also tends to throw out large remarks of how great his hair is. Rumor is that he gains his hair tips from certain jeweled Trolls. One must wonder if he models himself after the Chia Heads as well ... All I can say to his fiancée is .. I hope you know how to cut hair.

Oh .. don't worry there's more. But remember .. you're not hearing it from me. There is another cute couple on board. A certain Fst Lt. and Lt. have been seen leaving the same quarters at the same time! One has seen this certain Fst Lt. wearing the same uniform as the day before and worse .. :: gasp :: .. appearing late for duty!!! Pisst :: low whisper :: One word of advice Fst Lt., a wrinkled uniform really does make people notice. But not that it matters anymore, because these two are getting married!! All I can say is .. DOUBLE MARRIAGE!!!!

Oh .. just wait .. there's more. Looks like this team's medical staff is also over run by lunatics. The spread of a certain Doctor's influence from the USS Integrity has plagued the once normal Sickbay of the Roddenberry. Want to hear how this chaos looks like? Well, it's rumored that a certain Doctor has been put in charge as Assistant Chief Medical Officer, and since the disappearance of the original CMO, she has overrun the ship with a certain chainsaw bit. Can you say TM infringement?

Oh .. don't worry .. there's more. That exact same doctor has plagued the whole ship with her flirtation habits. It is said, from my sources mind you, that this certain doctor has captured the heart of certain officers. One certain Ensign, another certain Ensign Doctor, another certain Lt.

Junior Grade, and one certain Fst. Lieutenant. She must really be busy ... (Mind you, sources say she's got more in the infamous Ten Forward Lounge)

Well .. it's a ship of horrors. A ship of love. Want a companion for fun? Join the USS Roddenberry. Call 1-900-Rod-Romance. You're sure to find someone who'll chase after you ...

REMEMBER -- I'm right here, just an email away at CptAriell@aol.com.

Your Dirt is always welcome. Please submit those juicy morsels of gossip from your ships! I invite all of you who are reading this to send something to The Dirt. Requests for anonymity are respected.

Voyager Thoughts

This 6 part story arc of Voyager is very cool. I have enjoyed some of the different aspects that they have delved into this year. What did you think of the episode Retrospect? Did you think that they should have ended that episode the way they did with Seven of Nine and everyone else thinking that Seven just imagined the violation??? Let me know. Send an e-mail to CptAriell@aol.com and you will see it in the next edition of the PADD.

Also what are they going to do about Roxann's (B'Elanna's) real life pregnancy? If you noticed her uniform changed starting in the episode "Waking Moments". She now wears the convenient lab type coat that Beverly wore, except in Gold. I have heard rumors that they will fit her pregnancy in with her relationship with Paris. ::Smiles because she likes that idea:: We will just have to watch and see.

Baby Announcements (thanks to Zeyahl for this information)

Robert Duncan McNeill and his wife Carole happily became parents again on January 21st to their third child, Carter Jay. It is reported that mother and family are doing well. A Big Congratulations to Robbie and Carole.

Roxanne Biggs-Dawson gave birth to her first child, Emma Rose, on January 16th. Originally Carole and Roxanne had the same due dates. I am sure that these families will celebrate some birthdays together for their children. Mother and daughter are reported doing well in the Dawson household as well. A Big Congratulations to Roxanne and her husband as well.

Deep Space Nine News (Thanks to CptnSierra)

Yes it is official that Deep Space Nine is going into seven seasons. The sad and unfortunate news is that Terry Farrell will NOT be returning for the 7th season.

Terry Farrell hopes that the producers will send Dax off somewhere (like a fight with Worf or reassignment) instead of killing off her character. I am sure that the rest of us feel the same way.

{I have heard many rumors as to why she will not be back, so I can't give an accurate reason as to why. I believe that it had something to do with how she was treated in the negotiation process. From what I have heard Paramount people can be ruthless at times during negotiations. ~~Ariell}

Not enough hours in the day

In last month's issue I mentioned that the USF's own CptnSierra was trying to get an interview with Robert Picardo at a recent convention. Unfortunately there was not time in the convention's schedule to allow this interview. Robert Picardo is always very good with the fans, so I am sure that it was only because of the time restraints that he was unable to do an interview. Thanks for trying Si.

Given any thought to writing and submitting a script for Voyager or Deep Space Nine?

In my time here I have met some very talented individuals. Here is the information that you will need to get their script writing guidelines. Who knows, maybe we could someday see a written by fellow USF'er in the credits. :-)

MOVIE UPDATES

Rick Berman confirmed that Colm Meaney as O'Brien will be in the forthcoming IMAX Star Trek film.

Meanwhile, the next TNG film is still set to start filming near the end of March. Cinescape Online printed an unconfirmed rumor that the title of the movie would be "Pathfinder." (As posted on AOL by LB4747)

In the meantime, our forthcoming director Jonathan Frakes (Riker) signed a deal to produce and direct a sequel to the Schwarzenegger movie Total Recall. (TV Guide Online)

OTHER FINE INFO

Spotted in the film Wag the Dog currently in theaters: Suzie Plakson (K'Ehleyr on TNG and the female Q on Voyager), Andrea Martin (Moogie on DS9) and Kirsten Dunst (Hedril in TNG's "Dark Page"). (Thanks to Johnson Lai for the report!)

Also in movie news, April 4th is the scheduled premiere date for the film The Big Hit, with Avery (Captain Sisko) Brooks. (As posted on AOL by Emisary1)

The Rochester Museum and Science Center announced a new exhibit on whales coming soon to their Strasenberg Planetarium (whales in a planetarium, sounds cool). Patrick Stewart narrates the show. (Thanks, Peter Boulay!)

Hollywood Squares is coming back to television. Whoopi Goldberg (Guinan) will co-produce the show and sit in the all-important center square. (GIST)

I caught CNN making a small goof on January 23rd when they referred to Voyager as a Fox Network show. Oops! On another note, the same story noted Ethan (Neelix) Phillips' contribution to covering the $15,000 cost of the Wordbridge Project. Wordbridge is a playwrights' workshop at Eckerd College in St. Petersburg that the report said Ethan has taken part in previously.

Leonard Nimoy (Spock) will be voicing a role in a new animated film, Sinbad: Beyond the Veil of Mists. Also in the movie is John Rhys-Davies (da Vinci on Voyager). (Sci Fi Wire)

Alfre Woodard (Lily) once played a guest role on St. Elsewhere as Dr. Roxanne Turner. Now in a neat TV twist, Alfre will resurrect the role when the character guest-stars on a March episode of Homicide: Life on the Street. (Reuters)

The Maine Supreme Court ruled that Kirstie (Saavik) Alley's divorce from Parker Stevenson (and child custody proceedings) should be heard in California under California laws, not in Maine. (Reuters)

The "Federation Science" exhibit is at the Miami Museum of Science through May 3rd. (Star Trek: Continuum)

Men Cry Bullets, an independent film with Jeri Ryan (Seven of Nine), will be shown at the South by Southwest film festival in March in Austin TX. Head over to <http://www.sxsw.com> for more about it. (As posted on AOL by WbMstr7of9)

The Book Review

By Commander Arronax

For a few years now friends of mine have been yelling at me to read Douglas Adams' The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy trilogy (though it's actually five books, not three) and I finally gave in. I bought the first book of the series (entitled the same name) for about seven dollars, and four days later I had finished the book - it's really short, but it's still one of the best and funniest books I've ever read.

When the book opens, Arthur Dent is trying to prevent a bulldozer from demolishing his house - a simple Earthly situation, but by the end Arthur Dent, his alien friend who posed as an out-of-work actor, Marvin the mechanically depressed robot, the President of the Imperial Galactic Government, and Trillian (you'll find all about her) have stumbled upon the answer to "life, the universe, and everything." Imagine that the phone number of a girl you met years ago at a party is actually the probability that you'll be picked up by a space ship. Imagine that humans are only the third most intelligent species on the Earth - after dolphins and mice! Imagine that a certain type of fish can translate any language (including Vogon) if you place it in your ear. This is how the universe works in Arthur Dent's universe.

Every word of the book has three purposes: to tell the story, to get you thinking, and to make you laugh. It was amazing - every other word put a smile on my face. The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy (the book is named after an electronic guide to galactic travel which Ford Prefect is a researcher for) tells a story of how everything improbable occurs. It sounds silly, but it's done in a brilliant way because Douglas Adams wrote everything in such a serious (though still amusing) tone. For example, the two page introduction is a mild satire of life and religion, but if you're not reading carefully you'll be lost in the serious (though, again, still amusing) story.

I give this book a ten (out of ten), and because it's so short I expect everyone to go out and read it if you haven't already. The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy is one of those books that if you ask anyone, they'll tell you they've read it and thought it was amazing. Read it. (Comments? Suggestions? Contact USFArronax@aol.com.)

Star Trek Fan Clubs: Voyager

By: CptAriell

Let's Continue On

This month we are continuing in our SALUTE to the fan clubs of Star Trek actors. This month's feature is Star Trek: Voyager. All of the clubs that I have found so far are listed on my web site at <http://members.aol.com/cptariell/fanclubs/>

If you know of an Official or Non-Official fan club that I don't have listed, please contact me at CptAriell@aol.com Please give as much contact information about the club as possible so that I can pass it on. Also if there is a science fiction series that you would either like the fan club information for or you have fan club information again let me know at CptAriell@aol.com I am always looking for more. Hopefully the list will grow further as I am able to search out other science fiction/fantasy clubs.

Is there another science fiction or fantasy show that you would like to see the Fan Club listing for here??? Let me know at CptAriell@aol.com

How To Get The Most Out Of SIMing

by CdrKJanar and USFRSemino

Dear USF Friends:

Salutations!! My name is Commander Katerina Janar. Almost a year ago an old Captain of mine, Fleet Captain Richard Semino, ::claps cause she still thinks he's the best:: sent his version of this to his crew. It impressed me so much that I kept it and would like to pass it on to all of you.

I changed it somewhat from his original version and added in some of my own "stuff" I learned from SIMing. I'm sure Semmy won't mind and would probably puff his chest out knowing this was being circulated. LOL I hope it may help ya out. Pass it on to your crews if you would like!

It goes something like this.

Since joining the USF I have had my good times and bad as I am sure many of you can relate. During this time, I've tried to figure out what the "ultimate" SIM is. Sometimes we finish a SIM and think, "WoW! That was an incredible SIM!!! Awesome!!!" And sometimes we leave the PR grumbling. ::smiles:: I don't claim to have found it, but I have found some key concepts that contribute to a quality and fulfilling SIM. If you implement these concepts which are outlined below, you will have a blast! Hopefully.

You don't have to read further or even practice these <<Most of you may already>>. These are just gems that both of us discovered over time.

The 7 SIM Rules of (Fun) Acquisition

. . . by Semmy and Jan.

1. Work From Leads.

During a SIM, sometimes we feel we have to do something to be noticed ... to contribute ... to SIM the. Instead of creating something miraculous, follow any lead that is thrown out there. Try it.

Following a lead makes you more aware of the SIM as it develops. It also slows down the SIM, because you don't have 15 people on their own agenda, which helps everyone read easier! <<LOL And I am sure there are many that have those wild scrolling nights 'cause ya just can't keep up!>> Instead, they're all watching carefully to see what each character is going to do. As soon as an officer does something, work from the lead. Ultimately, you will be doing something ... you'll be working with a lead.

What is a lead you ask? An action command, a descriptive comment, a vocal command.

Examples:

Lead 1: Action> Romulan Warbird decloaks

Response A: Sir, sensors just detected a Romulan Warbird decloaking directly ahead.

Response B: I'll adjust long range sensors to see if more are coming.

Response C: Scanning their weapons now.

Lead 2: Ens Joe> ~~~Hmmm ... Romulans ... grrrr ~~~

Response A: :::notices facial expression of Ens Joe. He looks upset:::

Response B: :::remembers Ens Joe's last encounter with Romulans:::

What has happened here is everyone becomes focused on the SIM plot. Characters such as Joe begin to develop by working from the leads. And what a compliment! Someone recalled how he felt during the last encounter! Your minds will become entranced into the SIM world ... it's very realistic. ::nods enthusiastically::

2. Pay Attention To Characters.

Similar to working with leads, pay attention to characters. Did they fall and hurt themselves? Are they doing something they shouldn't be doing? The purpose for watching other people is two-fold.

The first purpose is so you can react to their lead as mentioned in the first tip. For example, if their character falls, you can run to help them. Or if you see them sitting quietly, call on them and ask them for help. Now you both will have something to do.

<<Teamwork, guys. There's no "I" in team!>>

The second purpose is so you can better determine the best time to create your lead. For example, if everyone has fallen and can't get up, <<LOL>> you're probably not going to have anyone pay attention to you if you fall, too. Here would be your chance to come to the aid of others. Then perhaps someone would see you helping and come to help you, too. See, you started your own little lead there just by following the course of action. So, by watching other characters, you can gauge the best time to take action for your own character.

3. Ask Others For Help.

This follows the same theme as stated above. Ask other characters for help during the SIM. This not only gives you and the others something to do, but it makes people feel needed ... like their assistance and expertise are needed. <<You will find that you make the greatest friends in those you never expected.>>

4. Use Small Paragraphs And Short Logs.

When writing logs, break your paragraphs up into 3 - 5 sentences. Preferably, break longer logs (5 or more pages) up into separate e-mails of shorter logs such as supplemental logs or part 1, 2, 3, etc . . . <<This also lends to the suspense when you cut the log off at a certain point!>>

When faced with a large amount of text to read, people naturally tend to skim over it or skip it until later. It's difficult to follow the long paragraph, too. Long logs have the same affect. If someone is pressed for time, they may pass that log up and move onto shorter logs. Of course stories are usually stated as such and are expected to be long. And of course everyone should be reading each others logs, that goes w/o saying, but the more visually pleasing you make your log <<not 40 colors, please>>, the easier you make it to read and flow -- the more everyone will enjoy the story.

Remember, this log is your work, it stands for you. Take pride in it and don't just splash some words randomly in an e-mail. What you write says alot about you. make it as good as we all know you are! /:)

5. Speak your mind.

If someone has offended you with their log, sometimes it seems easier to ignore it, but later, tensions rise and you can become unhappy with the SIM, person or character. When a situation occurs, address it. Address it in a mature manner. Tell the person how you feel diplomatically. Starting out a sentence with: "When I read your log, I felt....." or "I am upset about something I read and I would like for you to give me your input on what I am feeling." are two good ways that shouldn't put someone on the defense.

Remember, you may take something totally different from what the writer intended. Give each other the benefit of the doubt. Let them express themselves also. Allow the person the opportunity to amend the situation. The only thing we have to go on to express our emotions is this computer, as warm as it may get for having it on for so many hours like we do, it is still not a living breathing thing and can not explain as would a person. Give each other a chance.

6. Be receptive to ideas and feedback.

But alas . . . Eventually, you will end up offending someone. The important thing is that when someone comes to us with their feelings, we should respect them and consider their point of view. Defenses will only create a deeper rift.

7. Carefully choose your words.

When expressing your thoughts or opinions, think about the impact that your words will have on others. Ask yourself, "How would I feel if someone said this to me? How would this person react if I said this to them?" Be sensitive to their feelings. Instead of always following the rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you", consider the rule, "Treat others the way they like to be treated."

And have a good time! This is supposed to be fun, that is the original reason we all joined the USF to SIM out a ST kinda world. When it stops being fun, each of us has to look honestly at ourselves and find the reason why it isn't enjoyable anymore.

If you are honest w/ yourself and others, you can't go wrong!

See ya on line! /:)

Babylon 5 is Here to Stay
By Captain Ariell Johannson-Riker

Yes you have that right. The show Babylon 5 is definitely here to stay. Did you miss the first 5 season's episodes?? Never fear TNT has moved in to the rescue. The Turner Network Television (TNT) cable station has started airing the first years of Babylon 5 episodes every day at 7pm Eastern. You will also find the newest episodes airing every Wednesday night at 10 pm Eastern in most areas.

Turner Network Television acquired the Babylon 5 series from Warner Bros Television. On the good 'ol WB Babylon 5 was kicked around and placed in strange times, so that those of us who really wanted to watch B5 had to search the TV guide each week to find it. No problem, we found it and kept it alive. Not even WB could kill the fan interest.

If you don't receive TNT, please contact your cable company or satellite provider. You are missing out on a fabulous show.

Babylon 5 has an excellent cast including Bruce Boxleitner, Tracy Scoggins, Jerry Doyle, Richard Biggs, Mira Furlan, Bill Mumy, Stephen Furst, Peter Jurasik, and Andreas Katsulas. It is a fine group of talented actors.

J. Michael Straczynski is also an amazing writer. The whole concept of the show originated from a 5 year story arc that he dreamed up. Nicely enough JMS is also very accountable to the fans. If we do or don't like something he likes to know. Many things have been changed for the better due to fan input. ::Wonders if Berman will ever get the hint and listen to us fans. Laughs knowing that will never happen::

So tune into TNT and catch the show that is giving Star Trek and other science fiction shows a run for their money. Check out Babylon 5 !!!

SCI FI/FANTASY CONVENTION LISTING (Updated 2/28/98) by CptAriell

I began doing the convention listing for the USF PADD almost 2 years ago. In May of 97 I began an even more up to date convention listing on the web. It is there for those of you who want to remain more current than once a month, or want to recheck some information. For all those of you who have read the listing in this publication and visited my web listing I would like to say thank you.

A particular thank you to all of you who have visited the convention web page (<http://members.aol.com/captariell/fanclubs/convention.html>) since May of 1997. I am thrilled that as of 2/28/98 we've had over 1300 visitors. Due to the nominating from a convention web site member we have won the IFT web link of the month of January. ::claps and smiles::

It takes a lot of effort to keep both of these lists current, and knowing that you are visiting, and enjoying, the site makes it all worthwhile to me. Thank you again.

PLEASE CHECK OUT ALL CONVENTIONS IN YOUR AREA BECAUSE GUEST LISTS AND DATES DO CHANGE. This site is maintained to help you find the conventions in your area, but I am not responsible if some conventions change their guest lists and dates. Please check the web site or e-mail address for each site so that you can find out if there are any changes to the convention that you wish to attend. Thank You. :-)

Star Trek/Science Fiction Cruises

Check out either <http://members.aol.com/cruisetrek/cruisek.html> or <http://www.scifinetwork.com/startrek/seatrek/seatrek.htm> for CruiseTrek and SeaTrek information on cruise conventions. Safe sailing !!

International Listings

Our INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION LISTING will be growing by leaps and bounds as I have found a wonderful place on the net listing conventions in England, Germany, Scotland, and more. As soon as I can get them all typed up there will be a page dedicated solely to the international conventions. Until then why not check out this great site, where I found the majority of the international convention listings, <http://alethea.ukc.ac.uk/SU/Societies/StarTrek/Conventions/>

Another fine source of International Convention is <http://www.smof.com/conlist.htm> This site was just recently submitted to me, but I am sure that those of you overseas will want to check it out. I just want to make sure that all of you are able to find the conventions nearest to you. :-)

This is the one stop that you should make to find out if anyone will be in your area soon. There are two main convention lists. One is a list of the Conventions in the United States (listed by state). The other list contains the international conventions (including England, Austria, Australia, Ireland, Germany and Canada). If you see a () around the name of a company like (Creation Entertainment) then that means to look at the end of the page for the address to that web site.

The Conventions are listed under the city and state that they are going to take place in. I apologize if any of the information is incorrect. The people that run and schedule these conventions change their minds frequently. We will continue to try to get the most accurate information that we can to you.

Please forward all comments, questions, and information to CptAriell@aol.com. If you know of a convention coming to your area, please send the information to me. Try to send me as much of the information as possible, as this will help me to pass it on to other readers. In the subject area please put CONVENTION. This will help me to answer you faster. Thank you.

~Captain Ariell Johannson-Riker~ CO, USS Federation

NOTE: As always if you have any information on where to get convention information from then please let me know. I am constantly searching for more web site and e-mail sources. If you know of any convention web sites or e-mail addresses please send it to me. I am trying to get on as many mailing lists as I can to bring the best convention listing to you.

PERSONAL NOTE: I am looking for any conventions that have the FOREVER KNIGHT cast or crew at them. I liked the show, and I would like to see Nigel Bennett or Geraint Wyn Davies in a convention setting. I know that there are others who would be interested in this information as well.

LOOKING FOR I have someone who has contacted me looking for any Bond conventions. If you have any information on this type of convention please let me know. I am a fan of Bond myself as well. :-)

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION LIST

I am happy to report that our International Convention Listing is indeed still growing.

Remember that you can check out ----
<http://alethea.ukc.ac.uk/SU/Societies/StarTrek/Conventions/> for the latest in International Convention listings. A great thanks to those that are maintaining that page. Drop them a line to let them know if you like the site.

Another fine source of International Convention is <http://www.smof.com/conlist.htm> This site was just recently submitted to me, but I am sure that those of you overseas will want to check it out. I just want to make sure that all of you are able to find the conventions nearest to you. :-)
